In accordance with the existing instructions, the enterprises were authorised to adopt the Government House Building Advance Scheme as a model with suitable modifications wherever necessary, subject to the understanding that responsibility for marshalling resources for financing House Building Advance scheme would rest with them and no budgetary support would be extended by the Government. Alternatively, the public enterprises have also been advised that they could adopt the interest subsidy scheme and the employees could be advised to obtain House Building Loans from specialised agencies like UC, H.D.F.C, The subsidy on interest would be the difference between the rates charged by these specialised agencies and the rates charged by the Central Government on the House Building Advances.

Now that the recommendations of the Committee are available, appropriate instructions would be issued in due course to the public enterprises which hitherto followed 3rd CPC DA pattern to review their HBA Schemes in the light of the extant instructions.
